FOREWARD

Greetings everyone!

This is another project I started, just to backup all of my old drawings from way back in the day.

This is a collection of all my artwork that I was able to find from way back in late middle school, and all throughout high school, and through college.

So we are looking at like late 1994 - to 2026, actually. I went ahead and added all my artwork from college as well to combine Volumes 1 & 2 into the same book.

It's crazy to look back at some of these drawings. There's a saying in the art world, "You can always tell the mood of the artist based on the drawing."

I'm mainly talking about the horror genre there, as I don't usually draw "darker" grisly, bloody images, but sometimes you have to step out of your comfort zone. I am more of a comic book artist.

I have a mix of everything and I tried to organize it as best as I could. Most of these are all copyright © respectful owners, as I was just trying to learn how to draw, and these are really old, so go easy on me.

CHAPTER ONE

Landscape Sketches

This chapter contains sketches I was drawing either for school homework, or while I was at work.

For clarity, some of these were for when I was in high school, and we had to draw a certain number of drawings for "homework" per week.

The others, I was working in a call center, for my first Tech Support / Customer Service position, and I would draw while I was on the phone, and / or in between calls.

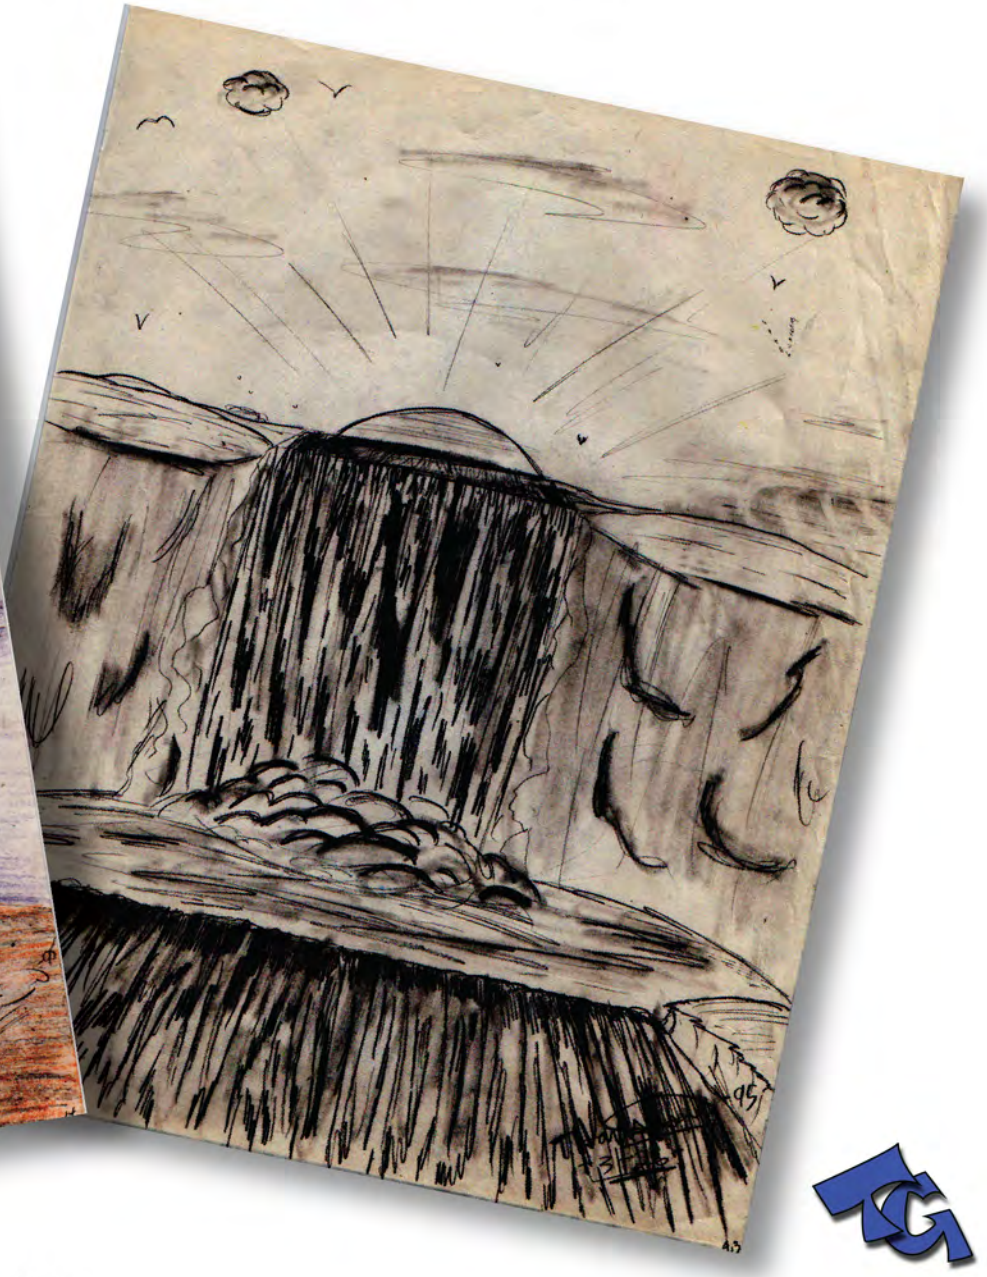

Most likely, this run is from 1994 - 1999.

Enjoy!

CHAPTER TWO

Comics / Game Sketches

This chapter contains drawings from various comic books and/or games that I used to read growing up.

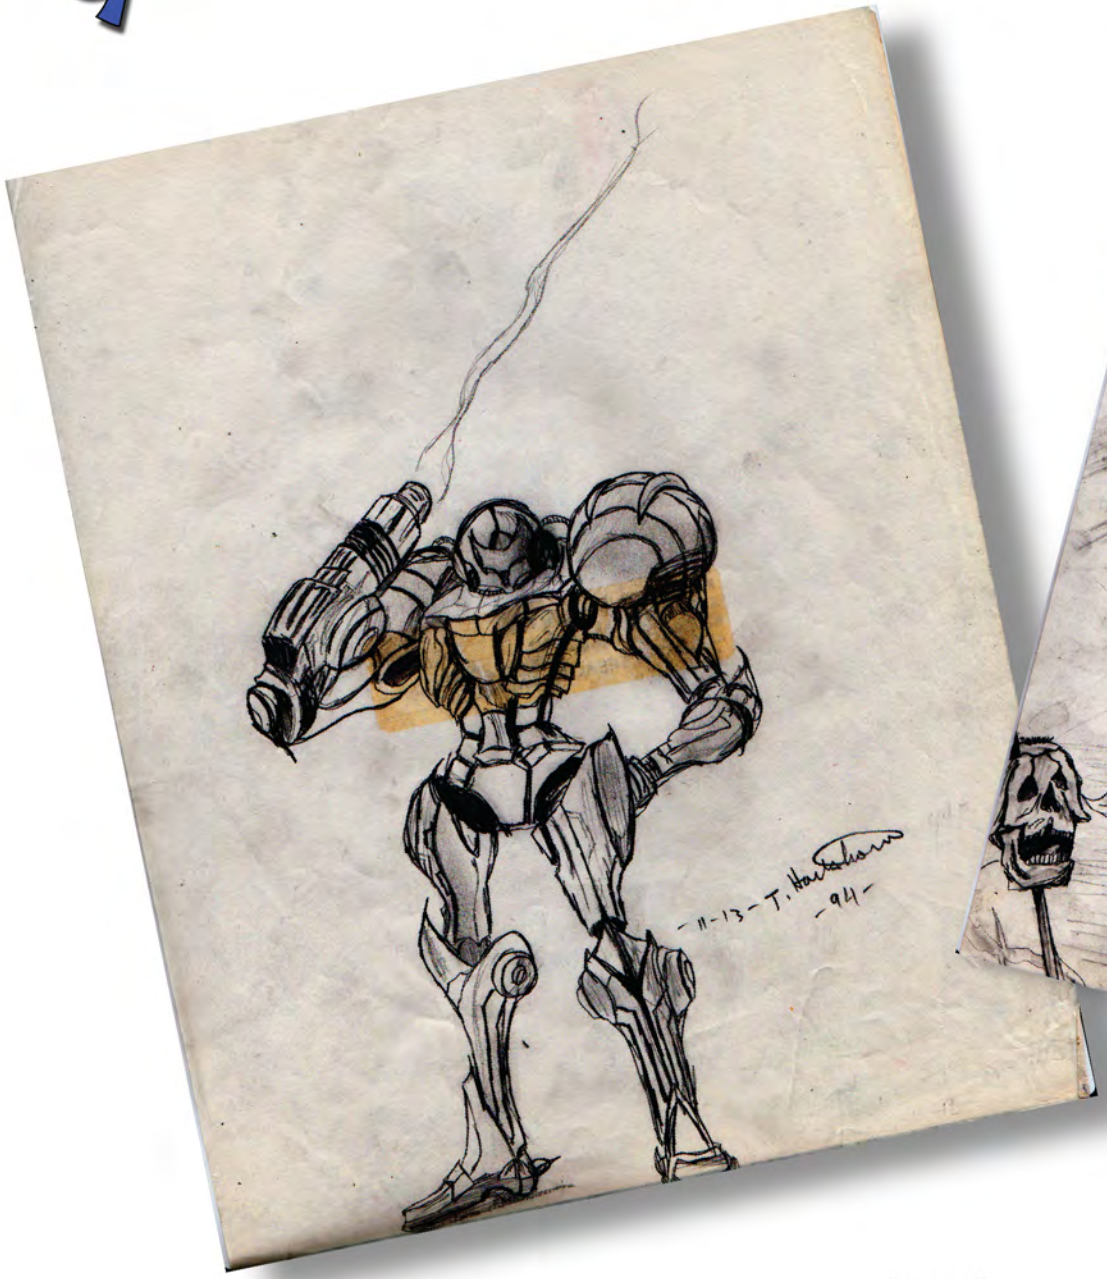

All of these are just me practicing drawing, trying to learn proportions, perspective, and just trying to learn how to draw in general.

CHAPTER THREE

Jimmy - Comic Strip

I believe I started this strip around 1992 - 1993, while I was in middle school.

I know the first dates show around 1995 but that's when I started actually taking drawing somewhat serious, as perhaps a career path.

This was a prequel to "Austin and Tate" which some of you may know.

You can check out
"The Official Austin and Tate Sketchbook" on my website:

tonygarciaonline.com

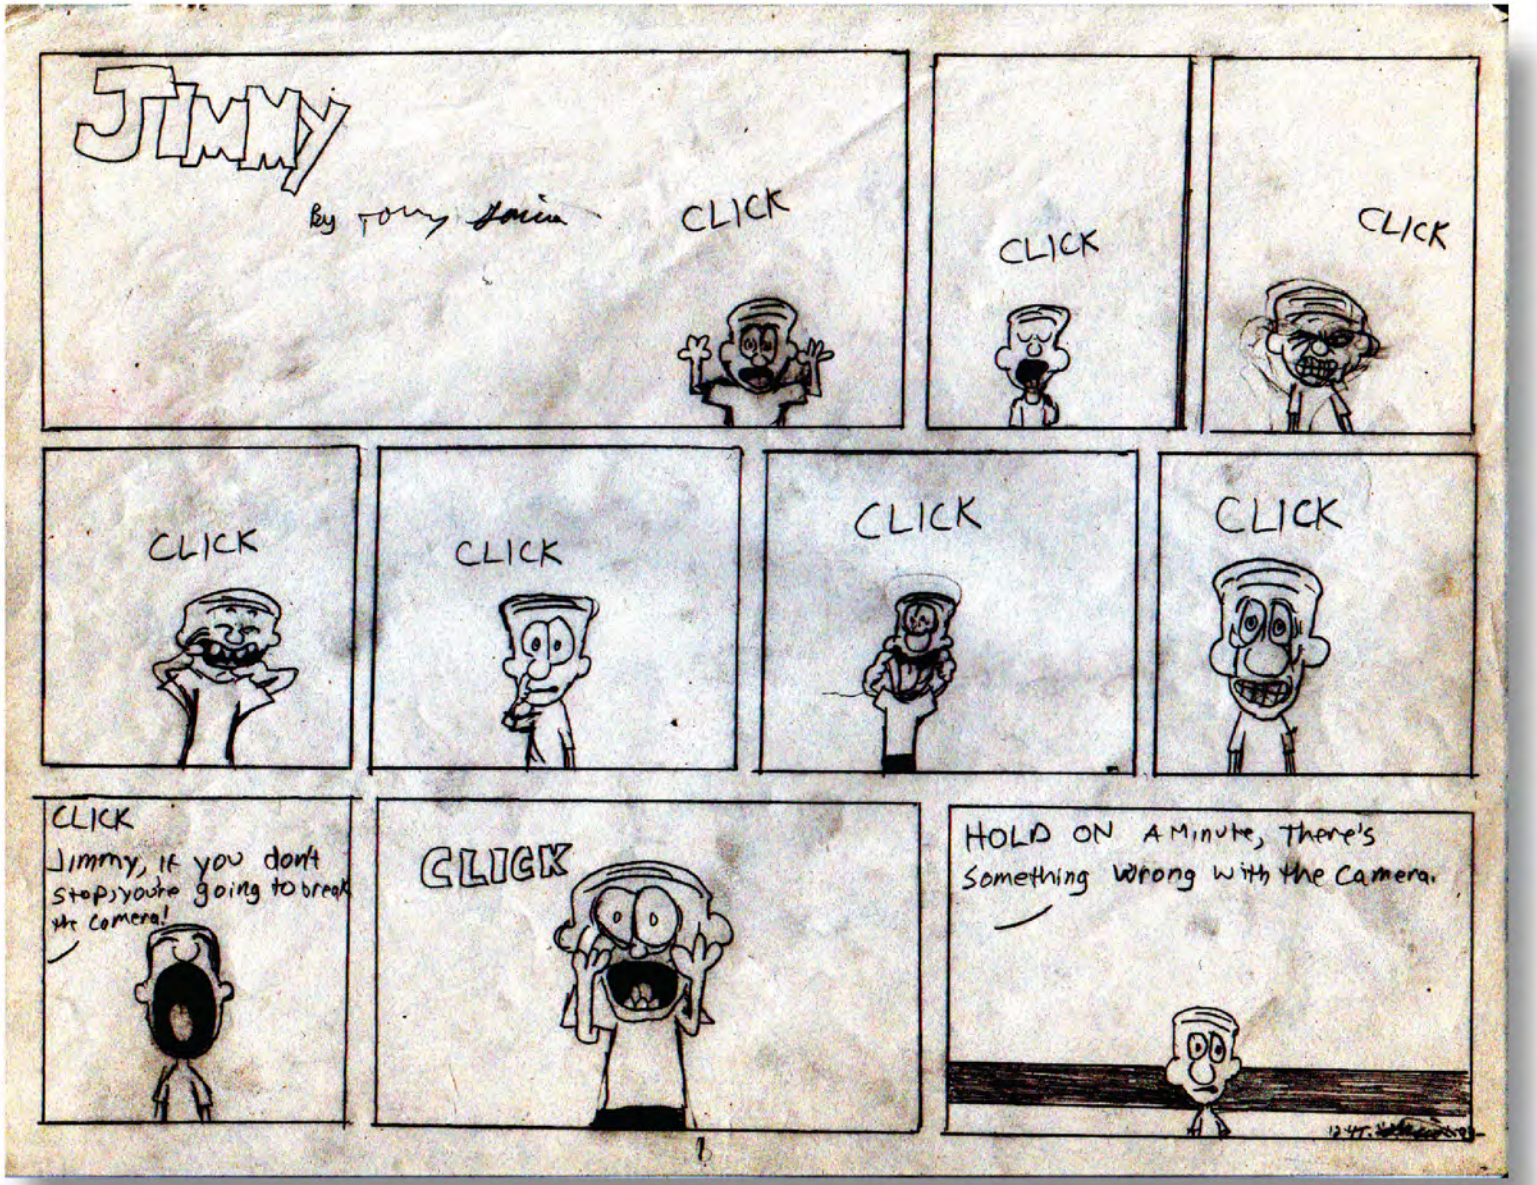

I honestly don't remember drawing this many pages for this strip, but it helped me grow as an artist.

Most of the stories for the strips I most likely re-used for Austin and Tate, so go easy on me.

CHAPTER FOUR

Random Sketches

This chapter contains just random sketches I drew all throughout middle and high school.

I tried to organize them somewhat, but otherwise, they are just random drawings in no particular order.

This run is around 1994 -1998, I was still learning as an artist, so go easy on me!

CHAPTER FIVE

The College Years

This chapter contains my drawings from when I was in college at the Art Institute of Colorado (which no longer exists by the way.)

This run is around 2001 -2005. I can tell I was growing as an artist, but as I look back on these now, there is definitely room for improvement, so again, go easy on me!

Enjoy!

PLEASE BE ADVISED THAT SOME DRAWINGS ARE FROM LIFE DRAWING CLASSES, AND CONTAIN ARTISTIC NUDITY.

BONUS CONTENT

This last chapter is a collection of random projects I have worked on over the years.

Some of them are older when I was back in college, and some of them are after, but I never really categorized them.

So that's kind of what I did here, instead of adding them to the book itself, I saved it for this last chapter.

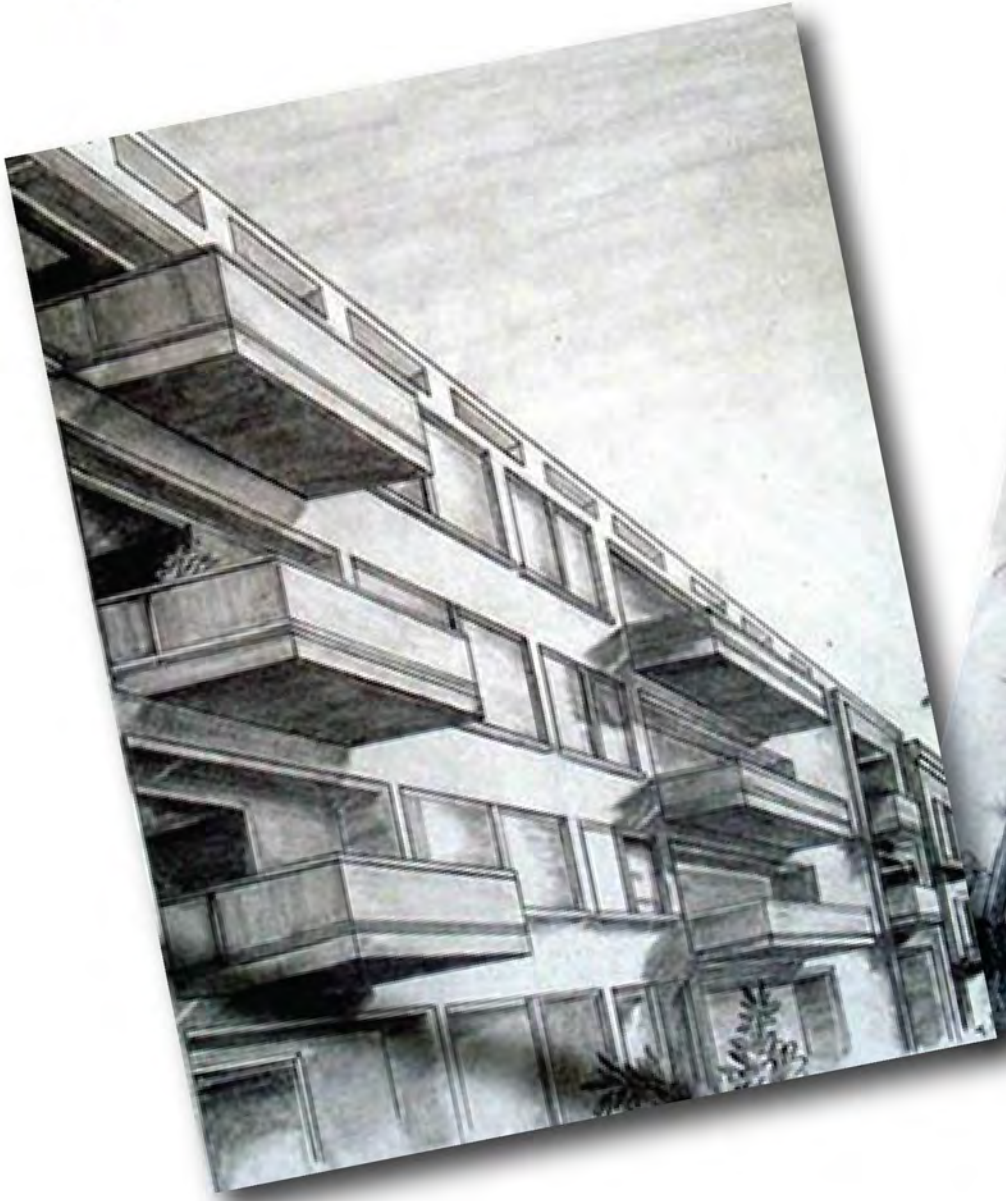

Backgrounds, Comics, Graphic Design, New Sketches, and Watercolors are all included.

All of these are pulled from my website.
Keep an eye on my website for future updates.

Enjoy!
